Year 5 and 6 Incursion – Forensic Science Workshop- A Case of Discovery

This Forensic Science workshop incursion aims to encourage a love of and curiosity in Science amongst students and show them how Science plays an important role in the world outside the classroom.

Presenters bring a real-to-life crime scene investigation to the school, set up a series of forensic evidence experiments and lead the students through the case while they learn how chemistry, physics and biology can help to solve crimes.

A Case of Discovery

The gold is gone! The jewels are too! An Auction House Robbery seems to have gone well for a gang of thieves who have made off with rare coins, gold and jewellery. Later that day, the security guard from the Auction House is attacked on his boat and the police need the help of the forensic scientists to track down the suspects and recover the stolen items. But when they are arrested, the gold is nowhere to be found. What on earth happened to the stolen goods?
